CARBONDALE (Pa.). MIRROR Wednesday, October 14, 1981 7 Battenberg's marks 100th anniversary

Battenberg's Furniture Store, Jermyn's oldest continuously operating business, is this week celebrating its 100th birthday.

It was back in 1881 that the furnitures store, now located at 632 Washington Ave., and the family's funeral home business, now at 363 of the town's main street, started operating.

Alfred operated the business by himself until 1931 when son Floyd was taken into operating. The new partners and provided the pusiness as a natter. The new partners are resulted to the store of Battenberg self Germany of Fredland was as a natter.

at 363 of the town's main street, started operating.

At that time both businesses were located at 550 Washington Ave.

The Jermyn business was started by a pair of German natives, C.F.G. "Gus" Battenberg, great-uncle of current owner Charles, and twin brother Alfred F.A. Battenberg. They undertook the new business with the curious name of G. Battenberg's Undertaking and Furniture Depot.

By 1883, Gus bought some land from Thomas Lathrope — the site of the present furniture store.

Six years later he bought more land—next door to the furniture store, built a home and used it as the funeral home until 1939 until 1931 when son Floyd was taken into the business as a partner. The new partnership underlook some projects shortly afterwards, including remodeling and expanding the building.

Three years later Alfred died and Floyd took over the family business.

Another partnership was formed in 1961 when Floyd's son Charles was discharged from the Air Force. Floyd died 12 years later.

In 1973 the funeral home underwent renovation and enlarging, adding a reception hall.
